1. Recommendation

Validate Yoga · de.wikipedia first.

- Yoga · de.wikipedia: 98,454 views a year, at or above the median of the compared set (41,038); -16.1% year over year, against -7.3% for the whole edition: 9.4% behind the edition as a whole, within the 10% margin.
- Monitor: Yoga · en.wikipedia, Meditation · en.wikipedia, Sleep · en.wikipedia, Insomnia · en.wikipedia, Yoga · es.wikipedia and 5 more.
- Deprioritise: Mindfulness · en.wikipedia (193,075 views a year; -31.2% year over year, against -7.0% for the whole edition: 26.0% worse than the edition as a whole), Meditation · fr.wikipedia (31,017 views a year; -44.4% year over year, against -10.6% for the whole edition: 37.8% worse than the edition as a whole), Sleep · fr.wikipedia (29,299 views a year; -33.8% year over year, against -10.6% for the whole edition: 26.0% worse than the edition as a whole), Meditation · es.wikipedia (25,633 views a year; -57.1% year over year, against -20.9% for the whole edition: 45.8% worse than the edition as a whole) and 5 more.
- Timing: attention to Yoga · de.wikipedia peaks in January (1.30× the average month), so plan launches and campaigns ahead of it.
- For Yoga · de.wikipedia, momentum is accelerating: the last 3 months changed -0.0% on the 3 before, after a weaker 3 months before that.

Basis: Wikipedia reader attention only, not revenue or product demand. This is not a go/no-go or investment call: before committing budget, confirm with search volume, app-store demand and customer interviews.

Rule: validate first = at least 12,000 views a year, demand at or above the median of the compared set and a year-over-year change within 10% of the edition's (share-adjusted) or better; deprioritise = under 12,000 views a year, or 25% or more behind the edition; monitor = the rest.

2. KPI Breakdown

- Demand (views, last 12 months): from 3,273 (Insomnia · de.wikipedia) to 548,597 (Yoga · en.wikipedia)
- Growth (year over year): from -58.0% (Insomnia · es.wikipedia) to -16.1% (Yoga · de.wikipedia)
- Growth (3-year CAGR): from -39.6% (Meditation · es.wikipedia) to -7.9% (Insomnia · fr.wikipedia)
- Momentum (last 3 months): accelerating: 10; decelerating: 5; stable: 5
- Affinity: from 0.12 (Insomnia · de.wikipedia) to 1.63 (Meditation · de.wikipedia)
- Seasonality and stability: moderately seasonal: 13; highly seasonal: 6; n/a: 1
- Anomalies: from 0 (Meditation · fr.wikipedia) to 3 (Meditation · en.wikipedia)
- Data quality: HIGH: 19; LOW: 1

3. Summary

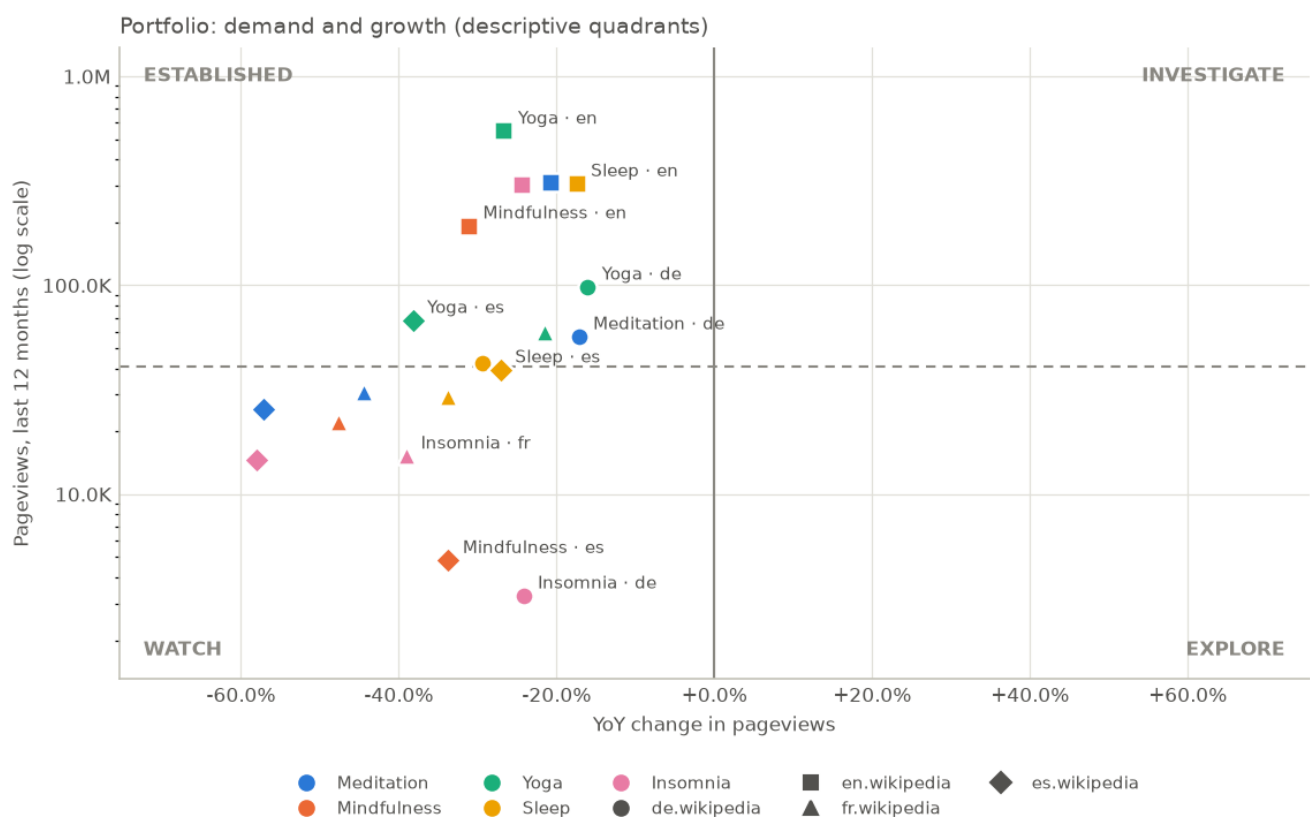

- 20 topic and edition pairs are shown, across 5 topics and 4 editions.
- Yoga · en.wikipedia had the most pageviews: 548,597 in the last 12 months.
- Every shown pair with a year-over-year figure (19) declined year over year.

4. Portfolio Matrix

One row per topic and edition, in the order given. Share and affinity are measured within each topic, across these editions. Rows are not sorted by any KPI, because that order would read as a ranking.

Topic	Category	Edition	Views (12M)	YoY	3Y CAGR	3M	Momentum	Affinity	Quadrant
Meditation	mindfulness	de.wikipedia	56,910	-17.2%	-15.1%	+3.1%	accelerating	1.63	established

Quadrant split: growth above 0% year over year; demand at or above the median of all measured pairs (41,038 views), taken before filters.

- investigate: growing and above-median demand
- explore: growing, below-median demand
- established: not growing, above-median demand
- watch: not growing, below-median demand

Quadrant names are descriptive labels, not investment recommendations.

5. Decision Signals

Five separate signals, each from one written rule. They are evidence for a human decision: they are not combined into a score and are not a recommendation to buy or invest.

Topic	Edition	Market size (reader attention)	Growth	Momentum	Localization	Stability
Meditation	de.wikipedia	low	declining	accelerating	strong	moderately seasonal
Meditation	en.wikipedia	high	declining	accelerating	moderate	moderately seasonal
Meditation	fr.wikipedia	low	declining	accelerating	moderate	highly seasonal
Meditation	es.wikipedia	low	declining	decelerating	moderate	highly seasonal
Mindfulness	de.wikipedia	low	n/a	decelerating	strong	n/a
Mindfulness	en.wikipedia	medium	declining	stable	moderate	moderately seasonal
Mindfulness	fr.wikipedia	low	declining	stable	strong	highly seasonal
Mindfulness	es.wikipedia	very low	declining	stable	weak	highly seasonal
Yoga	de.wikipedia	medium	declining	accelerating	strong	highly seasonal
Yoga	en.wikipedia	high	declining	accelerating	moderate	moderately seasonal
Yoga	fr.wikipedia	low	declining	accelerating	moderate	highly seasonal
Yoga	es.wikipedia	medium	declining	stable	strong	moderately seasonal
Sleep	de.wikipedia	low	declining	stable	moderate	moderately seasonal
Sleep	en.wikipedia	high	declining	decelerating	moderate	moderately seasonal
Sleep	fr.wikipedia	low	declining	decelerating	moderate	moderately seasonal
Sleep	es.wikipedia	low	declining	decelerating	strong	moderately seasonal
Insomnia	de.wikipedia	very low	declining	accelerating	weak	moderately seasonal
Insomnia	en.wikipedia	high	declining	accelerating	moderate	moderately seasonal
Insomnia	fr.wikipedia	low	declining	accelerating	weak	moderately seasonal
Insomnia	es.wikipedia	low	declining	accelerating	weak	moderately seasonal

Rules: market size by views in the last 12 months (very low under 12,000, low under 60,000, medium under 300,000, high under 1,500,000); growth by the 3-year CAGR (declining under -3%, stable under +3%, growing under +15%); momentum by ± 5 points of acceleration; localization by affinity (weak under 0.80, strong from 1.25); stability by anomaly episodes, then the seasonal peak (moderately seasonal from 1.12x, highly from 1.30x). Each edition's own report explains its readings with the numbers.

6. Filters and Excluded Rows

No filters: every measured pair is shown.

No rows are hidden.

Country filtering is not available: Wikimedia does not publish per-article pageviews by country.

9. Business Implications

What the data supports

- 20 topic and edition pairs are shown, across 5 topics and 4 editions.
- Yoga · en.wikipedia had the most pageviews: 548,597 in the last 12 months.
- Every shown pair with a year-over-year figure (19) declined year over year.

What the data does NOT establish

- Revenue, market size (TAM) or willingness to pay: pageviews measure attention, not purchasing.
- That one topic or edition is a better market than another: the quadrants describe Wikipedia reading only.
- Causes of any change: the data shows that traffic moved, not why.
- Country filtering is not available: Wikimedia does not publish per-article pageviews by country.

Questions requiring further validation

- Does search volume (e.g. Google Trends) show the same direction in this language?
- Is there App Store / Google Play demand for products on this topic in this language?
- What do competitors in this category earn, and how large is the addressable market?
- Will people pay? What do customer interviews and landing-page conversion rates show?
- What would customer acquisition cost, retention and monetization look like?
